CERAMIC URNS (ADULTS)

THE BOANN CELTIC CREMATION URN - FERN

This Celtic Cremation Urn inspiration is from Irish mythology. The River Boyne flows into the Irish Sea and was created by the goddess Boann, from where the river got its name. This is where Fionn Macumhaill (McCool) caught the Salmon of Knowledge.

THE BOANN CELTIC CREMATION URN - SEAHOLLY

The surrounding area has a rich history of mythological and historical heritage. The River Boyne is home to many special places from Irish History including the passage tombs of Newgrange, Knowth and Dowth, the Hill of Tara an ancient seat of the High King of Ireland, Trim Castle, the Hill of Slane.

THE BOANN CELTIC CREMATION URN - SEASALT BLUE

On the lid of the Boann Celtic Cremation Urn is a single spiral inspired by stone carvings at Newgrange. In Irish mythology, the Spiral represents the sun, with a clockwise spiral indicating the shrinking Winter sun. Cremation was practiced in Ireland 5,000 years ago and across ancient civilizations.

THE BOANN CELTIC CREMATION URN - COBALT

The Boann Celtic Cremation Urn is delivered in a beautiful Urn Presentation Box. The box is lined with traditional Irish hessian (see image). Your Urn will arrive in an outer double corrugated box and surrounded on all sides by biodegradable foam padding to ensure safe arrival.

GLASS SCULPTURE URNS

SUN SET OVER TARA

Inspired by the deep Red and orange skies we see as darkness approaches over the Hill of Tara, the day ends but the memories remains. A deep Red with amber tones created as a cast glass sculpture Urn with the base plinth utilized to contain cremated remains.

THE GREEN PATH

The green is to reflect Irish heritage but more subtly than that, in day light it is vivid and solid and as the light fades the true depth of the green appears. 'The green path' was inspired by the different shades of experiences we see as we journey through our lives.

NIGHT SKY OVER IRELAND

Inspired by the deep blue we see as the sun sets and darkness approaches, stars appear and all is still. The changing colors can be appreciated in day light and in artificial light. This Urn has a beautiful feel both polished and natural. Each piece is unique with both perfections and imperfections.

ROISÍN –

CAST GLASS CREMATION SCULPTURE

Roisín (Ro-sheen) lives with her family in the rural setting of Ballyboughal in North County Dublin. With a BA (Hons) Fine Arts degree in Applied Materials, specializing in Glass in the Irish National College of Art and Design.

She spent considerable time in the Corning Museum of Glass, New York. Where she studied with renowned glass artist, Carol Milne.

Roisín works in cast glass a multi-layered process with each piece taking weeks to create. She plays with form and color to add narrative to her artworks.

Roisín has sold works to Gallery owners, the Irelands' Office of public works for placement in Public building or Ministerial offices.

Her experiments with the transparent qualities of glass and the science of refraction allow her to fully express her concepts.

IRISH TREES

PLANT A MEMORIAL TREE

Planting a memorial tree is a poignant, unique way of both honouring and preserving the legacy of a lost loved one.

Memorial trees serve as a physical representation of a person's time on Earth and allow them to continue to have a positive impact on the planet even after they have left it.

Irish Trees endeavours to bring comfort to grieving families by planting native Irish trees in the name of their loved one. All trees are planted on a lakeside woodland located in Naul, Co. Dublin where they are carefully and respectfully tended to.

There is no better way to honour the memory of a loved one than to plant a memorial tree.

IRISH TREES

PLANTING CERTIFICATE

Irish Urns and Memorial Trees offer a range of Tree species and also allow the customer to make a donation to a chosen charity partner.

Every tree planting order comes with an official planting certificate. We have planting certificates for every occasion in a wide array of designs and styles.

Each certificate can be customised and personalised upon request.
